This is the water that flows in a stream in the forest.

This is the egg of a fish born to be brave in the stream in the forest.

This is the fish that
hatched from the egg,

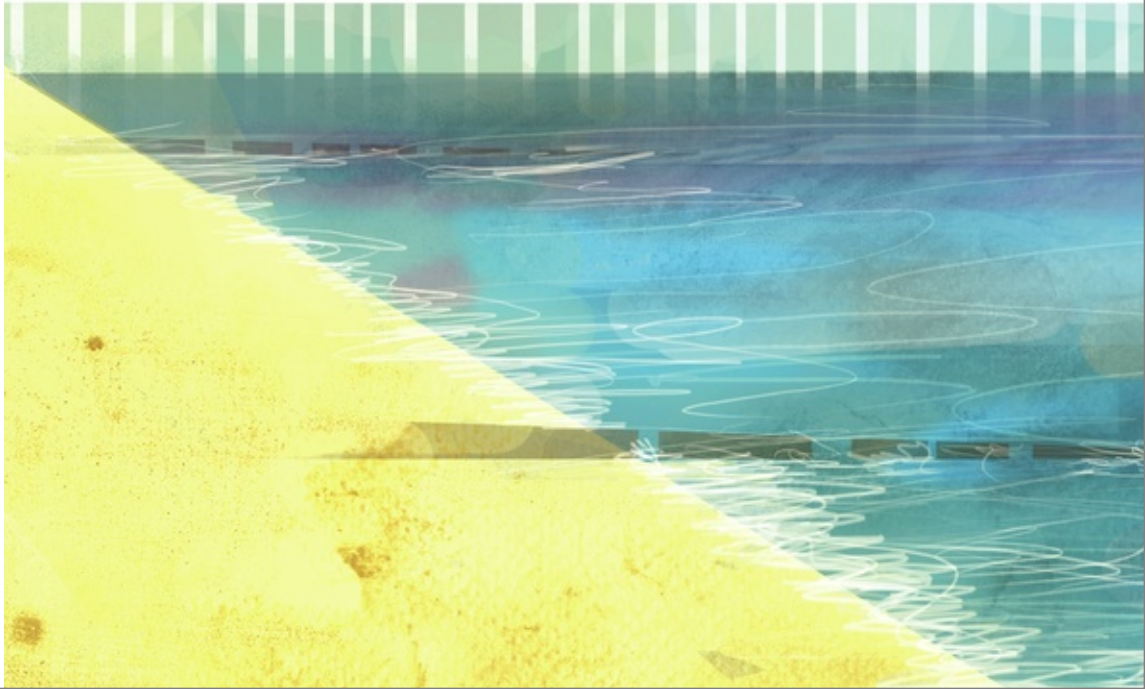

born to be brave.

This is the saltwater
home - the ocean,
of the fish that hatched
from the egg,

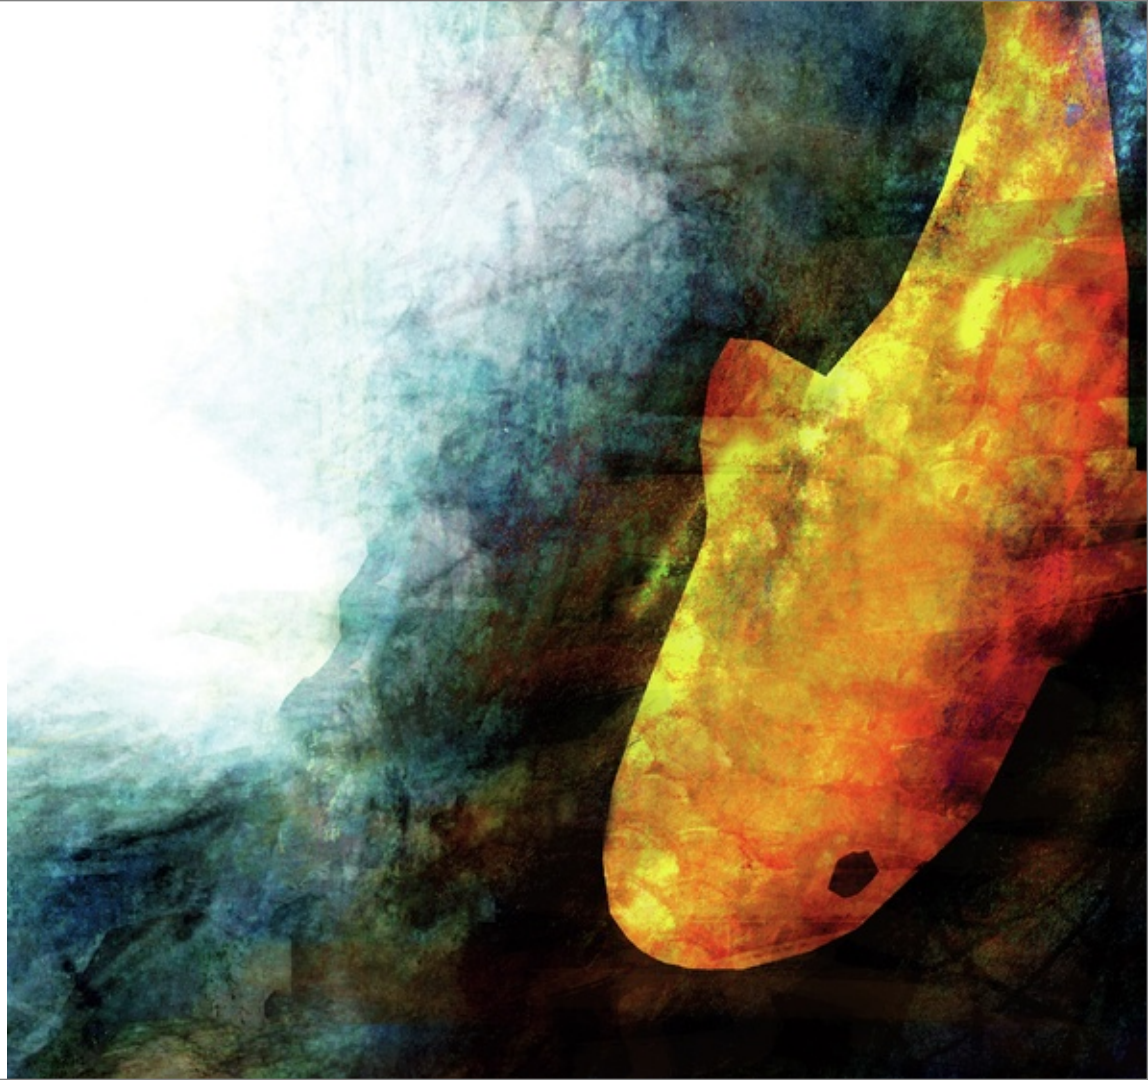

born to be brave.

hatched from the egg,

born to be brave,

afraid of swimming to his saltwater home - the ocean.

This is the wise one who says,

“Brave is being afraid
and doing it anyway.”

swims with his friends to his saltwater home -
the ocean;
hatched from the egg,
born to be brave.

This is the fish in his saltwater home - the
ocean,

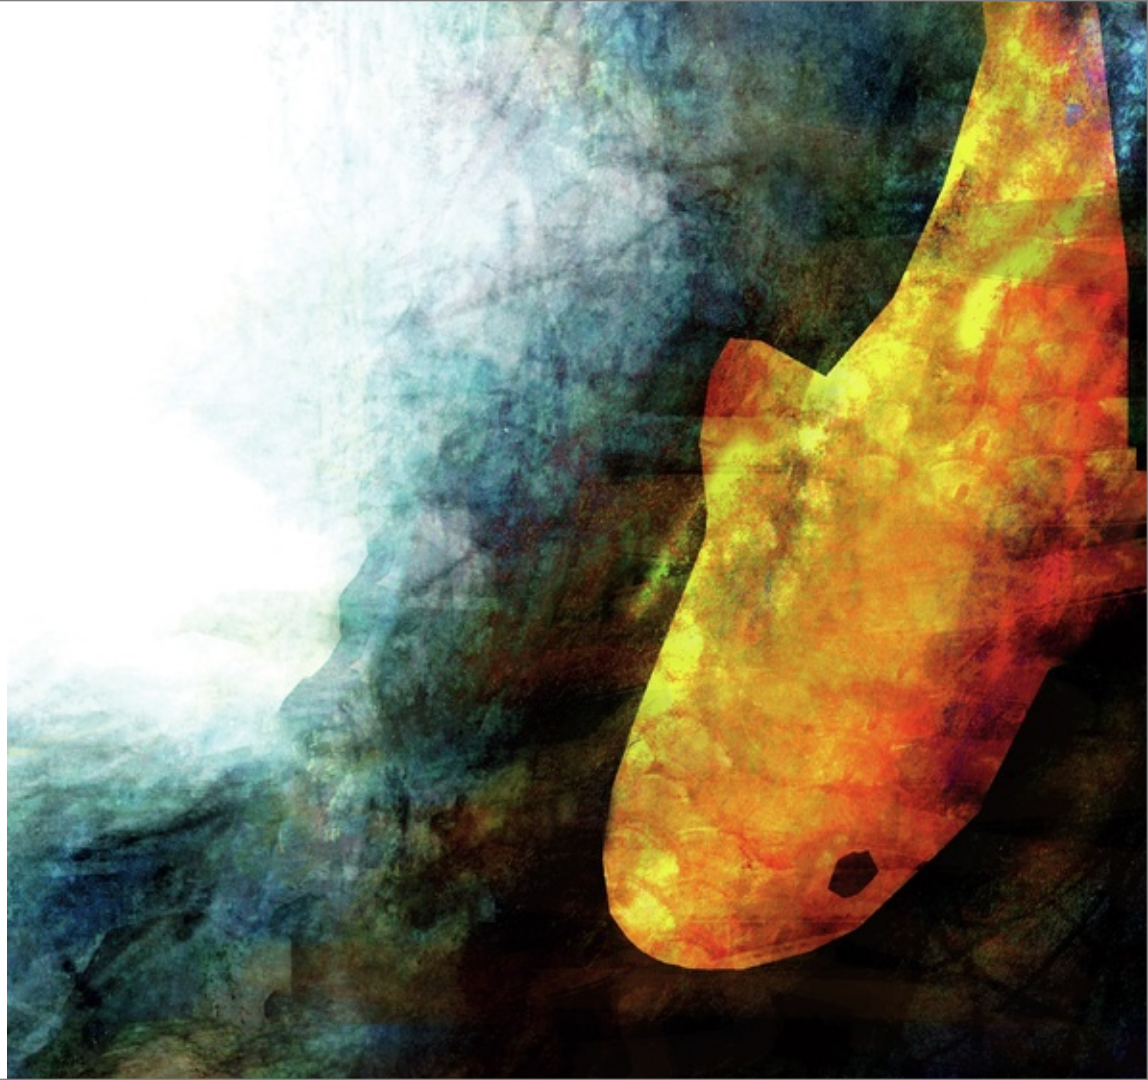

hatched from the egg,

born to be brave.

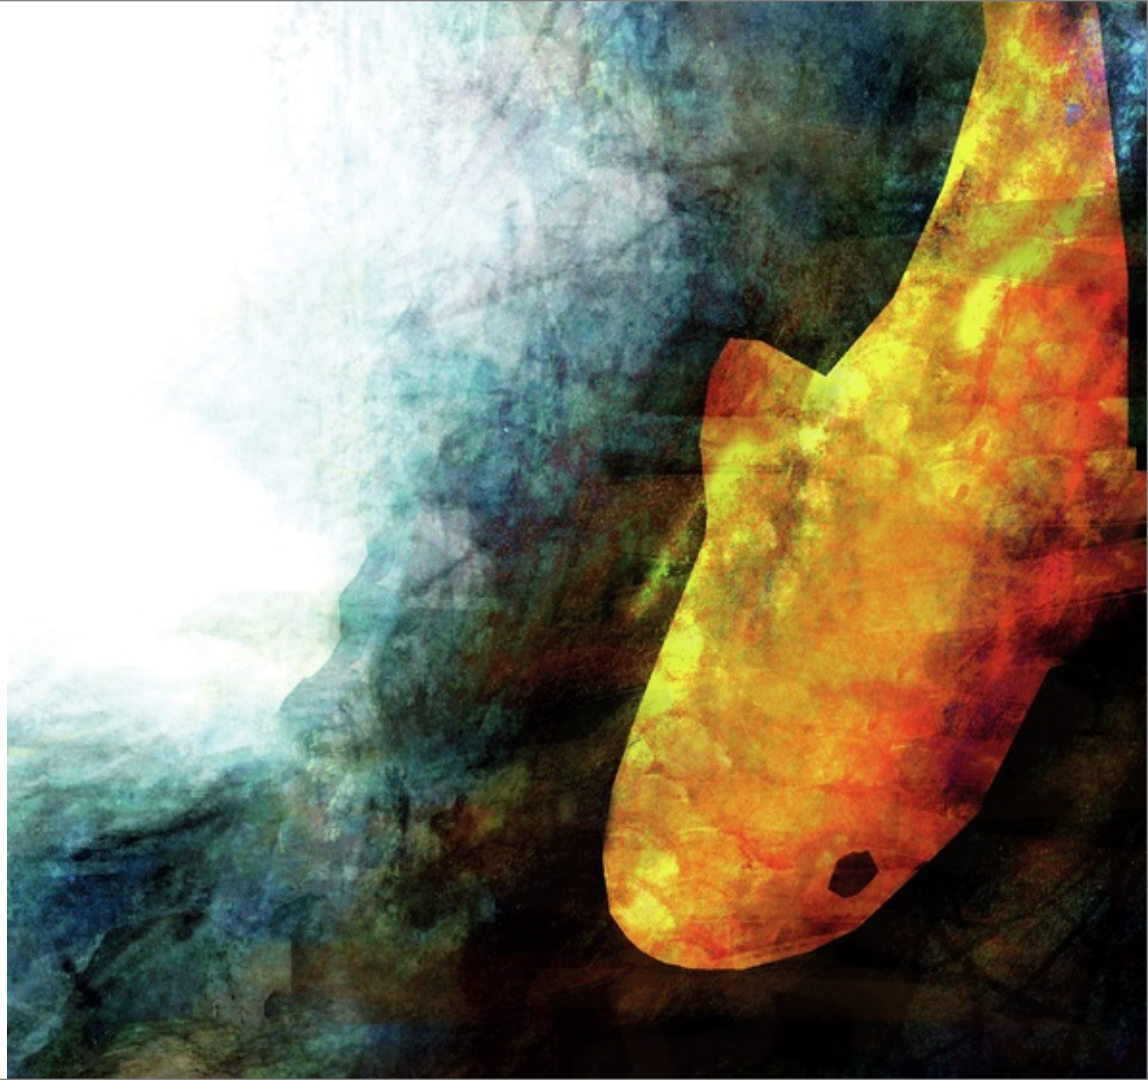

This is the fish, hatched
from the egg,

born to be brave.

This is the fish who says,

“Brave is being afraid
and doing it anyway.”
